

We offer a complete range of systems for specific market segments including oil & gas, power and process industries, etc. while our products have universal applications for many industries.

We have been providing full services of systems integration since 2000. Key to our early success is providing our customers with experienced and quality professionals in the area of instrumentation and electrical contracting, plant maintenance, process instrumentation & control systems engineering and project management.

We are distributor for Honeywell for Integrated Terminal Automation, Tank Gauging and Inventory Management System, Samson for Control Valves, Regulators and Accessories, R. Stahl for Explosion Protection Systems and Components, SOR for Pressure, Temperature, Level and Flow Switches, PAC for on-line process analysers, etc.